Historical Note: The Van Dykes and their relatives are members of one of the earliest family groups to have settled in the area now comprising Greene County during the 17th century. Of the files contained in this collection several are devoted to ancestors with the last name Van Bergen, the Van Bergen family being descendants of Captain Marte Gerritse Van Bergen who was killed outside his home in an Indian raid in the Spring of 1696 near Coxsackie. Genealogical files on many of the families named in this collection have been compiled by volunteers of the Vedder Research Library. These files are also available to researchers on request but are not directly related with this collection.

Summary of Contents: The collection contains genealogical materials related to the Van Dyke, Van Bergen, Van Schaack, Bogardus, and Witbeck families with particular focus on ancestors of the Van Dyke family who lived during the 19th century. Materials include legal papers and ephemera related to the college educations of some members of the family, notably Rutgers University.

Arrangement: One box containing folders sorted by subject or pertinent individual, material organized as presented to VRL by the donor.

Acquisition: Gift by family of subject, supporting documentation not present.

Processing Details: None available.

Publication: Collection processor information and dates unavailable, finding aid created Fall 2016 by Jonathan Palmer.

How to Access Materials: Materials are available to examine on-site at the Vedder Research Library in Coxsackie, New York during posted Library hours as found on the repository's homepage.
